It is doubtful if many in Truckee appreciate or even realize the important and excellent work being done each summer for this area by a man who has no material interest in the region. We speak of P. M. Weddell of San Jose who for nearly a score of years has devoted much of each summer to preserving the old Donner Party trail. The importance of this work cannot be overstressed. We who are here constantly probably do not fully appreciate what it means to protect the historic lore and relics of 100 years ago. But Mr. Weddell does, and thousands of others, who each year stop to scan the spot where the ill-fated pioneers made history, will thank him, as we should, many times over for his fine work. He works without thought of favor or gain other than to see this historic trail preserved for coming generations. At least the ground over which the Donner Party passed cannot be taken from us and if we save nothing else of our valuable historical past, we will always have that, even if it remains for an outsider to keep it posted.

On August 31, the 7C ranch will feature a rodeo and in order to cooperate 100 per cent with Truckee, through which all visitors to the show must pass, it is called the Truckee Rodeo by Frank Euer, sponsor of the promising show. It should be an effort of each one of us here in Truckee to get behind this show and boost it along. It can and should become an ever-growing annual event.

An important message to every businessman and woman in Truckee, regardless of whether or not they are members of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, is being sent out this week explaining the desire of the Chamber of Commerce to be of service to the community. Take time out and read the message and then decide whether or not we want a chamber of commerce.

A petition is being circulated this week for subscribers to our fish raising program. The importance of this matter cannot be overrated and we can only urge that you consider you share an investment. Sponsors of the petition, the Sierra Fish Planting Club, are not asking that you make a donation—they are not asking you to do a thing but help yourself.

Truckee Rodeo To Be Feature On August 31st

7C Ranch To Be Locale For Promising Show Next Week

MANY BIG EVENTS

Tom Ridinger Named For Arena Manager At Rodeo

The Truckee Rodeo, being arranged for Sunday, August 31, at the 7C ranch seven miles north of here, promises to be one of the most outstanding events of the season, according to Frank Euer, who is arranging the program of events.

Tom Ridinger, widely known rodeo manager, with his string of show animals, will be on hand to have charge of the program which will start Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Several widely known entries are expected to compete for the awards to be made at the close of the program.

Aside from bronc riding, the big event of most rodeos, there will be bareback bucking contests, steer and calf roping and cow riding program, for the afternoon with each event following closely upon the heels of another, assuring an afternoon of fun and thrills.

A hot lunch will be served at noon and in the evening dancing will be enjoyed.

It was hoped that a parade might be arranged for Truckee either Saturday night or Sunday morning, but a definite announcement could not be made pending word from the various entries scheduled to participate. Euer said the parade would be held if possible, but he could not promise this feature so early.

Workman Hurt in Fall From House at Summit

Lance Johnson, 25, a carpenter employed on the new Zellerbach home on Donner Summit, suffered a fractured wrist and elbow Tuesday shortly after noon when he fell 30 feet from the roof of the structure and struck the rocks below. He may have also had internal injuries.

Johnson was working on the steep roof with a stout rope around his body, the other end of which was lashed to a rafter. In some manner the rope became untied, permitting the workman to fall.

He was rushed to Truckee by Lyle Smith, also employed on the job as electrician, and, after being treated by Dr. J. H. Bernard, was taken to Sacramento for hospitalization.

Daughter of Local Couple Injured in Nevada Crash

Ed Gily, deputy United States marshal, and Mrs. Gily of Reno were involved in an automobile accident a short distance east of Sparks early Sunday morning.

The cars met head-on, resulting in Gily breaking his wrist and Mrs. Gily escaping with cuts and bruises. Mr. and Mrs. Walker Fairbanks, also of Reno, each suffered broken legs.

The four occupants of the other car escaped with minor injuries. Philip Morris, driver of the latter car, will appear for trial this week on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Gily is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bick of Truckee.

Visiting Here—

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schneider of San Francisco are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. White for a week. While here they are enjoying side trips to the many and varied points of interest in the region.

Employed in Chico—

Levon Joseph is now employed by the Standard Oil Company at Chico.

SAN JOSE MAN IN 17th YEAR OF MARKING OLD DONNER ROUTE

P. M. Weddell of San Jose is in Truckee for his 17th consecutive summer to properly mark and preserve the old pioneer Donner Party trail. Weddell, an authority on the route traversed by the ill-fated Donner Party, terms the portion of the trail he is marking as "the most important portion of any emigrant trail on the Pacific coast."

Through painstaking efforts, depending entirely upon authentic facts, the visitor has established the road plainly from the Alder Creek camp to the foot of Donner Lake where the major portion of the party met unspeakable hardships and death. Over the seven mile stretch he has erected 100 signs.

This summer the historian is attempting to reroute the trail from Verdi, or near there, to the Alder Creek camp site. Much of this section is known to him, but certain portions remain somewhat puzzling.

Twenty years ago, Weddell collaborated with C. F. McGlashan, an authority on the Donner Party and author of their history, and the two definitely established much of the old route. Weddell has since worked diligently and hard to keep the old trail marked and each summer has added somewhat to his former activities in re-establishing the trail.

For the most part Weddell works alone and makes minute studies of the area where nearly 100 years ago the Donner Party made such awful history in this immediate section.

Fresh Water Pearl Diving Reviewed in Magazine

We all know the Truckee River is valuable for its water power, irrigation and above all as an ideal fishing stream, but few have considered the possibilities of it being a treasure house for pearls.

In a recent issue of Field and Stream an article is devoted to the pearls in fresh water clams. It points out the fact that these pearls, although rare, are many times valuable and are easy to secure. Fishermen, once they adopt the hobby of searching for pearls are very apt to abandon fishing for the more lucrative sport.

The aboriginal Indians, the article says, were the first to find the fresh water pearls in this hemisphere and Columbus presented his queen with a priceless necklace of the gems after his visit to the new world.

The idea has a double value here. First it will assist in ridding the river of the clams, which in their first stages, called glochidia, are a parasite and kill many small fish by fastening themselves to the gills; secondly, it may result in the finding of really valuable pearls.

It may be worth the trial.

Alden Moore Advanced In Rank at Camp San Luis

Camp San Luis Obispo, Aug. 21—A diploma for completion of the course for mess sergeants has been handed Corp. Alden L. Moore, Co. E, 115th Quartermaster Regiment, of Truckee.

Moore has already qualified as a cook, after two months of intensive training in cooking at the school, but is now also qualified for administrative duties, including procurement of supplies; storage; mess accounting; preparation of bills of fare; prevention of food waste; kitchen discipline and inspection of the mess.

Truckee Catholic Church Gives To University Fund

According to the Superior California Register, official organ of the Sacramento diocese of the Catholic Church, the Truckee parish contributed $20 to the Catholic University collection for 1941.

The thirty churches of the diocese accounted for $799.94, with the Cathedral in Sacramento giving $150 to the very worthy cause.

More Refunds By State Are Told In Report

Taxable Property Reaches All-Time High In Value

The state board of equalization and the state department of motor vehicles this week issued a trio of reports of local interest. The equalization board's release dealt with the value of tangible taxable property in the state and counties. The motor vehicle figures concerned registration fee apportionments and population changes since 1940, based on motor vehicle registrations.

Taxable Property
Taxable tangible property in California has reached an all-time high assessed valuation of $7,355,500,000 according to Richard E. Collins, local representative and board chairman. In Nevada county tangible property subject to local taxation was assessed at $17,683,425, an increase of $472,510 or 2.71 per cent over 1940. In Placer county similar property was valued at $36,639,534 this year, a gain of 2.29 per cent or $821,727. The state-wide gain was 3.04 per cent.

Registration Fees Funds
According to the motor vehicle department, Nevada county will receive $10,554.76 of the $246,794.05 collected in registration fees. Apportionment to Placer county was $17,310.47. The total is divided half to state and half to the county to be used exclusively for roads and highways. The allotment to the counties is made on a basis of fee-paid registrations in the particular county. Nevada county had 7,593 and Placer 12,453 vehicles.

Population Trend Upward
On the basis of comparison of motor vehicle registrations, the state department of motor vehicles this week estimated the population gain in California over the 1940 census in a year at 566,351. The estimate shows a gain of 323 or 1.7 per cent in Nevada county and 504 or 1.8 per cent in Placer county. In 1940 this county had 19,606 and by the estimate now has 19,283, while its neighbor, Placer County had 28,103 last year compared to an estimated 28,612.

Gospel Mission Church is Started on Commercial

The Reverend Lena Snyder and Rev. Maizie Sherrod began services in the Gospel Mission Church last night in their new location on Commercial Row just west of the Truckee Bakery. The service was preceded by a street song and testimony meeting.

Rev. Snyder, dean of women at the Bethany Bible Institute in San Diego, came to Truckee to assist in the opening of the mission church.

Rev. Sherrod has been traveling the past year through the southern and western states in evangelistic work. She has been pastor of missions at Grass Valley and Vallejo and will have charge of the local mission.

Services will be held here Wednesday, Friday and Sunday evenings and at 11:00 a.m. on Sunday.

Official Organ Reviews Nearby Road Projects

In the current issue of California Highways and Public Works, official magazine of the division of highways, two nearby projects were listed in a review of paving work during 1940.

Both are under the heading of "Bituminous Treated Surfaces." The first is a plant mix job on a stretch of road between Hampshire Rocks and Soda Springs, with J. R. Reeves as contractor and W. G. Remington as resident engineer. The roughness index is 13.8 inches to the mile. The second was a road mix job from Donner Summit to a point two miles east. Fredericksen and Westbrook were the contractors and E. L. Miller, resident engineer. Roughness index was 106.7 inches per mile.

M. L. U. H. S. TO GAIN FUNDS FROM C. C. C. SCHOOL SAYS CLERK

Meadow Lake Union High School district will be apportioned $2,080 for operation and maintenance of the special classes conducted at the Hobart Mills CCC camp during the 1940-41 season, it has been announced by Walter E. Morgan, assistant superintendent of public instruction for California, in a letter to Principal G. E. Hofmann.

This sum is based on a total of 10 units of average daily attendance in the special evening classes, which amounts to $880 plus a bonus appropriation of $1200.

It was revealed in a report by Mrs. Lotta Bryant, clerk of the board of trustees, that during the term the cost of operating the classes totalled $1004.18, this being $882 for teachers and $122.18 for equipment. That would indicate that the local school gained a total of $1075.82 from the project.

A meeting of the trustees will be held at the school house Friday evening, it was announced by Mrs. Bryant.

Dean Thompson Discusses Hitlerism with Lions Club

"Can Hitlerism Win?" was the topic of an interesting talk given last night before the Truckee Lions club by Dean R. C. Thompson of the University of Nevada. Gilbert Sutton, a freshman at the university, gave a short but inspiring talk on "The Fifth Column in America." W. M. Englehart, Sr., was the program chairman and C. J. Bowers presided. Other guests included Bert Young of the Merced Lions; Olaf Ulland, ski champion, and Jack Crosland of Truckee.

Truckee Soldier Earns Promotion At Ft. Lewis

Fort Lewis (Wash.), Aug. 21—In an announcement from Capt. Howard C. Crawford, commanding Antitank Co. 15th Infantry, stationed here, Pvt. John G. Manley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Manley of Truckee has been promoted to Private First Class.

Military authorities at Fort Lewis stated that P. F. C. Manley's promotion was based on his attention to duty and soldierly qualities.

Tahoe Players Will Show 'Fireman, Save My Child'

The Tahoe Players, who for the past eight weeks have provided showgoers of the entire region with excellent entertainment in summer stock, will conclude their local engagement at the Tahoe Lake school next week with the highlight of the season when they present "Fireman, Save My Child," an old fashioned melodrama with entr'actes.

The shows presented during the season have won wide acclaim. The young Thespians have not disappointed in a single performance and have well earned the praise from the appreciative audiences which have followed the season's shows with increasing interest.

Plans call for a return next year and permanent and summer residents will greet this news with pleasure.

"Fireman, Save My Child!" needs no preview. The story is legend. A revival of the old melodrama is sure to be an attraction well worthy of packed audiences and there is no question that those in the cast including Jeanne Smith, Ted Marcuse, Elizabeth Hardy, Frank Burt, Janice Schwensen, Margaret Morgan and Lois Feldheim will do the play justice.

The play starts Tuesday and closes August 31.

Announce Aids For Local Red Cross Program

Mrs. Titus Selected To Be Roll Call Head In Truckee

WORK IS EXPLAINED

Other Committees Selected During Meeting Of Group

by MRS. M. C. HAYES

Publicity Chairman for Truckee Branch, American Red Cross

The first meeting of the Truckee branch of the Nevada County Red Cross was held last Thursday evening at the Truckee Grammar School. Miss Alice Case, field representative, addressed the meeting, giving a general outline of the work of the Red Cross and stressing the importance of Red Cross work in National Defense. She spoke of the work of the field director who is placed in each camp and naval base and operates as the welfare agency of the Army and the Navy. The Red Cross is enrolling both medical technicians and nurses to serve not only in the national emergency but in cases of local disaster.

Organized first aid instruction is already responsible for the saving of many lives, Miss Case pointed out. The Red Cross is appealing for blood donors, collecting and making serums and powders which are being accumulated both for the hospitals of our allies and to be used in case of a possible national disaster.

Each chapter, through its disaster relief committee, cooperates directly with the civilian defense committee, listing and organizing the facilities for food, housing, medical care, first aid and clothing in each community.

Miss Case further explained, in answer to inquiries, that only fifty cents of each membership, no matter how large, is sent to the national organization. Of memberships of under one dollar, half is sent. All the rest collected is retained by each chapter. Thus, the greater part of membership money collected here will be retained in Truckee for local chapter needs.

Mrs. Flora Titus was named chairman of the Roll Call. Rev. Grant Keetch will continue as chairman of emergency relief. This committee dispenses Red Cross aid to civilians in our own community. Mrs. C. H. Weeks was appointed Junior Red Cross chairman and will begin her work with the children as soon as school opens. In addition to the chairman, an additional advisory board was named. The members are Mrs. Dave Cabona, Mrs. Ben Lewis, Charles White, Mrs. E. L. Loynd, Mrs. Gaston Hocker and Mrs. H. O. Anderson. Sub-chairmanships on the disaster preparedness committee were appointed by Fire Chief N. F. Dolley. They are Elden Tonini, food; Tell Nobles, housing; Angelo Besio, clothing; Dr. J. H. Bernard, medical care, and Frank Gaiennie, first aid.

Through the courtesy of the Truckee Public Utility District, a Red Cross display will be kept in their window for some time. A list of Red Cross chairmen will be posted there and any civic minded person wishing to help on any committee will report to their committee chairman. Although special aid will be called by these chairmen from time to time, there is work for all, and Truckee, at this time of emergency, can do no less than her part in the great work of mercy of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Grant Keetch requests that all finished Red Cross work be turned in to her by September 1.

Home Today—

Mrs. R. J. Buddle will be home from Portland, Ore., today. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Ella Broderick, who is convalescing from a recent operation.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

The Republicans may have their idea of when Thanksgiving should be and the Democrats theirs, but the Barretts have an entirely divergent view from both. It was five years ago August 13 that the name Walter M. Barrett first appeared on the mast-head of the Sierra Sun as its editor and publisher. Those years have been good to us—even if they were harsh in spots. As a family and as a firm we have made many valued friends, we have established our home and acquired a belief in Truckee and Tahoe and in the future of the entire region that has been our home for these five years back. Truckee—and the entire area—has weak points and even bad ones, but these exceptions help us to appreciate all the more the blessings and advantages that are to be had here. Too, even the most pessimistic must admit that progress is constantly being made, even if its pace is a trifle slow to suit the mohe bombastic. This progress has been noticeable during our five years here and we are proud to have been a part of the community during that period, we are thankful for friends made and look forward to years more of service here among those friends.

Last week one of my friends of longest standing in Truckee came in to the office and announced that he was observing his 84th birthday and generally regarded the world as a pretty good place to be in spite of many things. Frank Powell was just about our first acquaintance in Truckee, being our landlord at the time we moved here. Since then we have come to know him and respect him for his mental and physical fitness, his sage advice and his civic activity—all of which would do credit to a man half his age. Long past the age when most men seek the comfort of their easy chair, fireside and memories, Frank is still actively interested in community progress and the future in the long view, rather than in the short sight so common. I sincerely hope that, for good or Truckee, Frank Powell be spared for service for many years to come and from the high degree of his present activity, it is probable that my hopes will be fulfilled. Anyway, happy birthday wishes are extended to Truckee's grand old man.

Defense Bond Quiz

- Q. Can my children buy Defense Savings Stamps?
- A. Yes. Hundreds of thousands of American children are buying Stamps regularly as their share in the national savings program.
- Q. Why should children be encouraged to buy Savings Stamps?
- A. Because by buying Stamps they write their names on a Roll of Honor of Americans who are doing their part to show the dictators that united Germany will never flinch to preserve her sacred liberty.
- Q. After my child has collected enough Stamps to exchange for a Bond, can the Bond be registered in the child's name?
- A. Yes. A minor may own a Defense Savings Bond. Many parents are registering Bonds in their children's names to prepare for future educational needs.
- Note:—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps go to the nearest post office, bank or saving and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D.C., for a mail order form.

MORE FRANKNESS NEEDED

Criticism of the Administration's decision to ask Congress to retain the draftees and National Guard units for service longer than the stated year is the result of an old Administration failing—lack of frankness.

Most people feel that as long as the Army thinks more training is necessary, that training should be had. Most of us want to know, however, what the Administration led everyone to believe that only one year of training would be needed. Surely the Army High Command realized that more than 12 months were required to train the men in the highly technical aspects of modern warfare.

But why didn't somebody tell the draftees? Or did the Army think that the New Deal would make good its promises to produce promptly the war material needed for rapid training?

In any event, confidence in the Administration is not increased by its eleventh-hour disclosure that the draftees must be kept in Army camps for a longer period. A little frankness at the start would have prevented much of the current criticism.

WINGS FOR AMERICA by Don Wiley

MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASSN

"It must have been terrifying, even to the now hardened crew of the 'Gneisenau', who looked into the sky and could see nothing. The only advance notice they had of the raid was the screaming of bombs as they whipped out of the blue..."

A young pilot was talking into a British Broadcasting Corp. microphone, telling, in considerable detail, the story of the now famous "sweep" last month against the Nazi naval base at Brest, an event which convinced even the most skeptical European air observer of the supreme worth of that American development, the four-engine heavy bomber.

At the time, the American press carried brief details of the raid, but the broadcast by the pilot, who had been at the controls of one of the giant Boeing Flying Fortresses, emphasizing why Britain was so electrified by the performance of the big bombers.

Most Americans have come to associate these ships with extreme range, which is accurate enough, for the planes were designed with the idea of hemisphere defense in mind. But range was entirely secondary in the raid on the battleship Gneisenau. What the Fortresses did in that "sweep" was to push Europe's air war up into the stratosphere.

Harking back to the pilot's broadcast—"My plane was 30,000 feet above the docks, beyond the range of human sight and audiolocated devices."

(Our guess is that the pilot understated the case, for the Fortresses have a ceiling considerably better than 30,000 feet. But at any rate—)

"We were flying at a greater height than had ever been reached in an operational fight. We climbed far into the sky where it was extremely cold. It reached as low as minus 75 degrees Fahrenheit... Soon there was frost on the windows of the plane about three-quarters of an inch thick..."

Came the moment when the cross-wires of the bomb sight were centered over the Gneisenau, "from a height when the battleship looked no bigger than a caterpillar."

"The bombs were released," the pilot continued, "we watched them drop into a cloud bank. A few moments later the bomber sighted them again. 'There they go... one... two... three...' We could pick up little puffs of flame and smoke."

It wasn't very long ago that the British were skeptical of the value of warplanes as big as the Flying Fortress and that other American-built heavy bomber, the Consolidated Liberator. In fact only a few months have elapsed since C. G. Grey, the now somewhat discredited London aeronautical expert (his crack about "America deciding to fight to the last Englishman" made most Englishmen madder than they have been for a long time) wrote to the effect that the Flying Fortress was "a good commercial design" but too slow and too poorly defended to any real value as a combat plane.

Well, here is the opinion of one young fellow who ought to know what he is talking about. Once more we quote from the pilot's story:

"These American Flying Fortresses are wonderful planes. They are perfectly maneuverable, are steady as a battleship and are incredibly efficient. We thank you in America for those bombers!"

TAHOE WOMEN VISIT SCENIC WONDERS OF RUBICON CANYON ON DRIVE-HIKE TRIP IN INACCESSIBLE BACK COUNTRY IN WEEK

Tahoe City, Aug. 21— For those who don't mind depending on their own feet for going places, the back country beyond the Rubicon Canyon stands out in the way of scenic grandeur, as well as for angling sport in its lakes and streams.

During the past week, Tahoe City's three lady hikers, Mrs. Amelia Wehrman, Miss Margaret Luhrs and Mrs. Ethel Vernon once more visited the Rubicon country and this time a 12-mile hike was added to the 40 mile round trip drive over the old Miller Lake road. This road, which seems rougher and narrower with each successive drive over its numerous curves, was at its roughest, narrowest and twistiest—but the hike beyond the summit was worth the effort. The two and a half miles down the rocky trail to the Rubicon Inn was made in short order and then the first climb of the day began. Crossing the bridge over the Rubicon River just beyond what remains of the once thriving inn, the hikers began the two mile climb along the old wagon road to Buck Island Lake.

This lake, in its beautiful mountain top setting, lies close to the 8,000 foot mark and has two separate islands. On one of these Victor Wiklander, a retired civil engineer from the bay region, has built himself a home which, for comfort, restfulness and scenic beauty, is a small mountain paradise. His island contains one acre, forested with young tamaracks and holds two guest cabins beside his own living quarters. All of these Wiklander has built and furnished with materials which he carried to the lake over distances varying between two and five miles. The other island in the lake contains two acres.

From this point the three travelers climbed two miles further toward the west over the steep and rock-strewn Wentworth Springs trail. Here, at last, along the ridge of this rugged range the trail becomes easier and almost on the level. The vistas of natural grandeur and beauty below stretch far to the north and east and are enchanting to look upon. The Rubicon Canyon lies from east to west with its mysterious forested regions and its great granite gorges, and as one views it from these heights the "Call of the Canyon" is no longer just a poetic thought. It becomes quite real, audible and thrillingly insistent.

Here, where the high winds played their symphony through the black-boughed mountain pines, the hungry hikers emptied their knapsacks near a cold spring beside the trail. There is no drink half as sweet as mountain spring water from an old tin can and no food to compare with a cold sandwich eaten beside a mountain trail.

A half-mile further along the ridge and end of the trail drew near for the day. Around the side of a mountain peak, strewn with huge boulders, where twisted junipers clung to the rocky crevices, the hikers made their own trail now. Over a granite rise where a little pool smiled and reflected the trees, they came at last to trail's end. Beautiful Spider Lake lay there in the top of the range, its watery arms reaching out among the peaks and the main body of the lake pulsing and rippling in the sun.

Spider Lake, like so many of these back country lakes, is a fisherman's paradise. Brook trout and rainbow caught from its waters often weigh ten pounds or more. Other lakes in this vicinity where trout abound include Lake Winifred, Rockbound, Fox and Fawn lakes. In the mountains on the canyon's northern rim, and in walking distance from the Rubicon, two other lakes where the trout are plentiful are Fern and Long lakes.

Only one lake in this region is known to be without life of any kind in its waters. This is a high lake called Alpine, which lies cupped in the granite about 800 feet below Tell's Peak. The altitude marker on Tell's Peak reads 9225 feet. Lake Alpine is about a quarter mile long by almost as much in width. It has a solid rock bottom and granite shores hold only enough soil in crevices here and there for small clumps of mountain pine and hemlock. Its waters are the coldest and purest to be found and are absolutely devoid of growth of any kind.

Ed Wagner had a serious heart attack last Wednesday and is still confined to his bed and will be for some time. Dr. Edward Purcell is in constant attendance on him. He will be moved to the Reno Veterans' Hospital as soon as it is possible to move him. Mrs. Harry Henrikson, a nurse of Tahoe City, is assisting in the care of the convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Moore of Oakland was a week-end guest at Wagner's Auto Camp.

PIONEER OF TAHOE REGION PASSES AT BAY AREA HOSPITAL

Tahoe City, Aug. 21— Friends from end to end of the lake region this week mourn the passing of William S. Bliss of Piedmont who died last Thursday in a bay region hospital at the age of 75.

Bliss was the son of D. L. Bliss, the Tahoe pioneer of Comstock fame who founded and helped build up Glenbrook in the old days when that Nevada resort was the town of the lake region. He leaves two brothers, C. T. and Walter Bliss of Oakland and San Francisco, and a son, Will M. Bliss, of Glenbrook.

The deceased was a native of Nevada and spent most of his summer at Glenbrook on Lake Tahoe. The major interests of his life were centered about the lake. He was known throughout northern California and Nevada as an active philanthropist and humanitarian who subscribed regularly to various charities and to several libraries. As late as a week before his death Bliss again expressed his interest in the Tahoe branch library and made a last donation there. During the last two years of his life he wrote the Bliss Family Biography for this library and also presented to Justice of the Peace Evelyn Bliss of this city a valuable collection of historical pictures of the pioneering days on the lake. This collection is now on display in the library here.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Mt. Vernon Crematorium in Oakland. These were conducted by Rev. C. L. Reidenbach of the First Unitarian Church.

Applegate Man Killed In Leap from Auto Thursday at Emerald

Placerville, Aug. 21— G. W. Del Carlo, 48, of Applegate, was killed outright last Thursday near Emerald Bay, Lake Tahoe, when he leaped from his car as it careened over an embankment. Five other persons in the car were uninjured.

Coroner A. J. Orelli said Miss Lena Mastros of Auburn was driving the sedan when the steering gear locked on a turn. He said Del Carlo tried to jump clear and his head was crushed under the rolling car.

Charles Henrikson of Lake Forest, who was driving just behind the unfortunate party, saw the accident and, with the aid of a passing motorist, finally extricated the man from beneath the wreck, only to find him dead.

The party was en route to Camp Richardson for an outing.

The deceased leaves his wife, a son and daughter and relatives in the superior California region.

Parents of Summer Stock Star Killed On Way To Visit Son at Lake Tahoe

Tahoe City, Aug. 21— Word received here Sunday by young Hal Millen, one of the cast of the Tahoe Players, disclosed the tragic news that both his parents had been killed that morning in an auto accident.

The elder Millens had just left their home in San Jose and were on the way to visit their son at Tahoe Pines where he is staying for the summer with the rest of the stock company. The young man was stunned by the sudden shock of the tragedy and the entire community extends sincerest sympathy.

LOU FAGEOL AGAIN WINS TITLE AT LAKE BEFORE BIG CROWD

Tahoe City, Aug. 21— Louis Fageol successfully defended his lake championship title in the Tahoe Yacht Club's second regatta Sunday at the Chamber's Lodge pier when he won the main event on the program for the second time. Driving a 150 horse powered hydroplane type racing boat, he borrowed from George Whittell last July to win the race and which he recently purchased from Whittell. Fageol got off in the lead of four other fast boats and maintained the lead through the race. A. K. Barbee, piloting Saxon Jr., a 900 hp boat, was Fageol's closest competitor with only four seconds difference in time.

It was an ideal day for speed boat racing after a light rain fall in the early morning and a light ripple on the lake was said to account for faster driving than in the July races. A crowd estimated at well over 1,000 cheered when Fageol's time of 12 minutes and ten seconds was announced. His time in the July race was 12:50.4 over the five lap course that boat club officials estimated as over ten miles.

Carl Becholdt, Jr., driving Elsie B III, won two first places, a second place and piled up enough points in the various events to win the Commodore's Cup for the second time.

The results of the races follow:

Lake Championship race: Louis Fageol, 12:10; A. K. Barbee, 12:14; Herbert Day in Hae Dae, 15:09; E. I. Metcalf in Teceleot, 17:06; E. L. Oliver, Jr. in Hey There, 17:11.

300 H. P. Class (three laps): Herb Day, 10:04; E. L. Oliver, 10:16; E. H. Metcalf, 10:17.

225 H. P. Class: T. E. Anderson, 12:13; Brooks Walker, 12:46.

180 H. P. Class and under: Bert Jackson, 10:54; Carl Becholdt, Jr., 11:20; Earl Schnetz, 11:23; Bruce Sims, 11:23 and George Dyer, 14:16.

165 H. P. Class: Carl Becholdt, Jr., 11:16; Earl Schnetz, 11:17; Wm. McClatchy, 11:48 and Hall C. Ross, 12:25. Bang and Go Back race: In 14 entries, Becholdt, McClatchy and Anderson placed in that order.

The Handicap race: In a field of 14 entries, A. K. Barbee, Earl Schnetz and T. E. Anderson finished in the order named.

Fair Weather Forecast For Tahoe Region By Simmonds, Official Seer

Tahoe City, Aug. 21— On Monday morning Lake Tahoe's level stood at 6228.16 feet above sea level, according to official records kept by W. A. Simmonds, weather observer. Although the day was cloudy, the thermometer registered high and Simmonds said a continuance of fair weather can be expected.

Temperatures during the week varied during the past week from a minimum of 44 degrees to a maximum of 71, except for Sunday and Monday mornings when the cooling atmosphere registered 37 degrees.

With five gates open at the Truckee River Dam, 436 c.f.s. of water is now flowing from the lake. This release of water will probably be continued until late fall or until heavy precipitation is registered here.

Mary Kruger of Los Angeles is a guest this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Floyd Carnell.

by SWANEE

Thanks to the American Red Cross, the finest exhibition swimming meets ever held on Tahoe shores took place on last Saturday, the morning devoted to the Tahoe City meet and the afternoon to Kings Beach. Under a sultry, cloudy sky, the group of more than 50 youngsters, capably directed by their instructor, Stuart Phillips, Oakland school teacher, went through their paces like seasoned veterans. A good sized crowd of parents and spectators lined the lake-shore at the site of the old Tahoe Mercantile store at Tahoe City about 11 o'clock, cheering encouragement and thoroughly enjoying the aquatic cavortings. The efforts of both the younger and older children reflected the careful training administered. Mr. Phillips completely won the hearts of his young charges and the respect of their elders and all hope he may become a summer "institution" at Tahoe.

Few lake residents apparently realize that these commendable swimming and life saving classes are made possible by their donations and memberships to the local chapter of the Red Cross. The purchase of a $1.00 membership means that 50 cents of that dollar is retained in the treasury of the local chapter. Should a $10.00 donation be made here, only 50 cents of that amount is forwarded to the Red Cross headquarters and so it is with any amount.

A real vote of appreciation should be accorded Mrs. Evelyn Bliss, chairman of Tahoe's Red Cross chapter, who has been responsible for both past and present swimming instruction made available to local children, the last class being the largest in Tahoe's history. She declares that 132 members were enrolled at the lake last year. One half of the membership fees—$66—plus donations made, added to the balance from the previous year made possible this summer's record breaking classes.

Mrs. Bliss reports that the Red Cross roll call will probably be held earlier this year and it is sincerely hoped that generous cooperation on the part of the lake's populace will make swimming instruction an annual certainty.

Use of this special reserve fund is permitted for such purposes as the alleviation of epidemic suffering, any disaster emergency, fire, flood, etc., dire straits of needy families and for the purchase of life saving equipment and the furnishing of first aid stations. The last mentioned, a fully equipped first aid station, should be next on Tahoe's list of "musts" as the large increase in the lake's population annually, along with additional tourist travel, make this a real necessity here.

Unbounded praise and gratitude has been freely expressed by the large class of first aiders who, under the patient and competent tutorage of Frank Gaennie and Harold Laity, received their "diplomas". Never before have Tahoe residents been accorded this privilege and their continued interest and sustained attendance gave positive evidence of their real interest in health and safety measures. A vote of genuine appreciation was tendered the class instructors and a hope was voiced that advanced first aid classes and possibly a course in home nursing for the women folks will be made available at some near future date.

Following is the list of those successfully completing the swimming classes and winners of the various events for both Tahoe City and Kings Beach:

Tahoe Youngsters Give Sum to Show Regard For Work of Red Cross

In appreciation of the advantages derived from the recent swimming classes conducted by the American Red Cross, Tahoe school children sent the following letter to the Red Cross chapter at Tahoe City last week:

"We are enclosing $5.07 that we want you to distribute as you see fit. "We boys and girls thank you for the wonderful opportunity we had to learn swimming, life saving and water safety. We all learned very much.

"Mr. Phillips, our instructor, is a fine fellow and can swim like a fish. We only wish everybody in the United States could have as good an instructor.

Your friends, Tahoe Lake School, Bob Adam, Gr.8; Peg E. Stuart, Gr.7"

CHINA'S OLDEST DAILY IS STILL PUBLISHED IN WAR

The editorial office of Ta Kung Pao, China's foremost newspaper, which has moved its offices five times since the beginning of the Sino-Japanese war, was completely destroyed when 51 Japanese bombers flew over Chungking in one of the most ferocious air raids of the entire "bombing season", according to recent short wave reports at United China Relief national headquarters. Despite the raid, the paper appeared on the stands in its regular complete edition the following day, the report said.

Tahoe Area News Items

Mrs. Isabel Taylor, who has been visiting here this summer with her sister, Mrs. John Stevens, left this week for her home in Pittsburg, Pa. Gene and Bud Walker of Woodland visited friends in Tahoe City during the weekend and also paid a special visit to their new niece, Miss Roberta Jean Watson, at her home near the Tahoe Tavern. This young lady, who came from a long line of horsemen and horsewomen on both sides of her family—although she is not yet two months old—has already had her picture taken on a horse and gone riding several times.

At the H. H. Henrikson home at Lake Forest guests entertained over the weekend included Joe Sulentor of San Pedro, an old school mate of the Henrikson brothers, Charles and Oliver. Henrikson, who is steadily employed in the bay region, was also at home here for the weekend.

Mrs. Rose Bennington, who lived in Tahoe City for a number of years, and now resides in Lebanon, Ore., was a weekend guest at the Wagners' Auto Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson had as their guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson and son, Wayne, of Oakland and Mrs. Adelia Ames of Newcastle.

Reno, Aug. 21—Ellen Drew, Paramount movie actress, last Wednesday married Cy Bartlett, Hollywood sportsman at writer, at Lake Tahoe.

Hit-Run Motorist Killer Of Dog at Tahoe, Scion Of Two Movie Canines

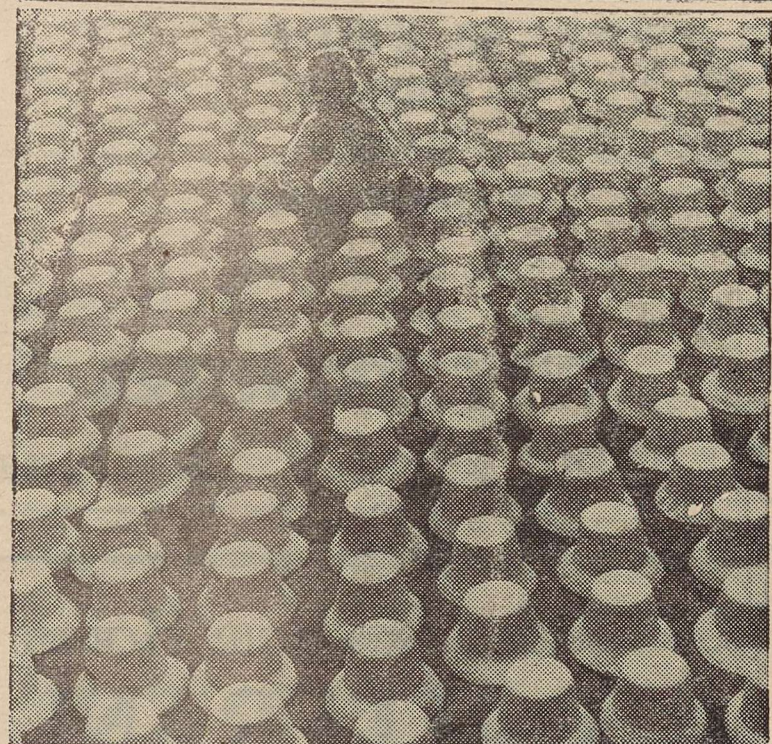

Tahoe City, Aug. 21—Tragedy entered the E. H. Pomin home during the past week when a hit-run driver struck and fatally injured their police dog, Prince. The animal, which the Pomin had raised from a puppy, was almost like one of the family and was almost 12 years old. Both the animal's front legs were broken by the speeding car and his head was injured, so that his owner was forced to summon Constable Harry Johanson to end his suffering.

Prince was an exceptionally intelligent animal and came of famous canine stock. His grandsire on one side was Rin-Tin-Tin and on the other, Strongheart, both well known motion picture stars.

TUNNEL UNDER ROCKIES

Colorado is preparing to bore a one-mile highway tunnel under the Rockies on Highway U. S. 6, at Loveland Pass, 50 miles west of Denver, reports the California State Automobile Association. The tunnel will pass under the Continental Divide at 11,310 feet, 682 feet under the present road summit. It will cost about $1,500,000.

Traveling Around America

A CROP OF "PANAMAS"

HERE is a field of "Panamas" and they didn't grow here either! They were carefully woven by natives whose families for generations have been making this fine head gear which we call "Panama." In Ecuador—where the finest of these hats are made—they are named after the village in which they are woven. The best known are Jipijapas and Montecristis; the latter are the finest.

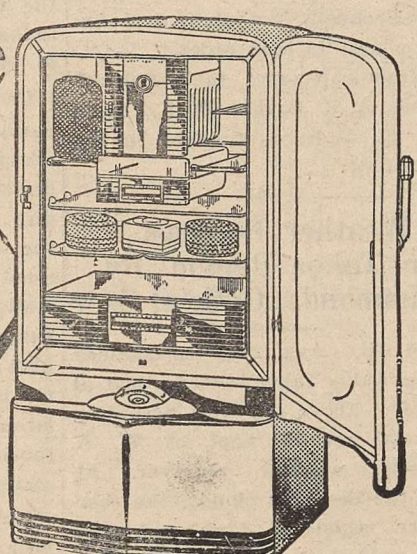

The natives weaving these hats are among the most intriguing sights to be seen by travelers visiting Ecuador on the fortnightly cruises from New York. In the typical little factory there are from four to ten natives weaving hats in various stages of development. They work only during the cool of the morning and late afternoon, in dimly lighted rooms, because sun light is apt to dry the straw and make it crack. Each weaver sits in front of a block upon which he nimble braids the straw, moistening his finger tips in water which he keeps by his side in a half coconut shell. The finer the weave, the more delicately is this moisture applied. In making a Montecristi the weaver starts with about sixty strands of fibre, increasing these as he builds the crown until at the edge of the brim they total about one thousand fibres. So fine is the mesh of a perfect specimen that it can be rolled into a quill which may be passed through a finger ring, and the finished article resembles a fine cloth fabric.

Summer Time

The temperature is up and most people aren't giving much thought to the problem of winter heat. However, this is the time to give a great deal of attention to that problem which literally may mean the difference between comfort and suffering, between life and death, here in the High Sierra.

This is the time to replace the outmoded and inefficient heating systems with modern oil burning units to furnish a maximum of healthy heat in the inevitable cold winter days ahead. This is time, too, to insure your winter's supply of fuel oil for the entire season. Then, too, this is the time to check your present oil burning units to see if you are enjoying peak performance from flawless equipment.

Yes, sir, now is the time for all good men to check up on next winter. It will be here sooner than you realize.

Race for Governor Wide Open at Early Date Says U. P. Commentator

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Sacramento, Aug. 21 —(UP)— The 1942 elections are many months away but the political gossip is increasing in tempo to the point where the air is full of trial balloons being sent up by hopeful aspirants to public office. Naturally, the "ins" are spreading propaganda that all is in order for reelection, "based on a fine record of public service". The "outs" are carping at the incumbents, declaring they are besieged with appeals to become candidates and the same old hokum that bobs up before all elections.

The gubernatorial battle is the one most in the public eye, with Governor Olson the logical target for all the gentlemen who think they would make a better chief executive. It is conceded that things are breaking better for Olson than most any previous governor one could name who failed in a try for reelection. National defense is balancing the budget, charges against his administration are at a low ebb and he believes that the strong Democratic registration and support of labor will be enough to win.

feeler when he said "It is too early at this time to make any campaign announcement but I will say that ever increasing numbers of people are importuning me to run for governor next year.... I shall give the matter as much thought as is necessary to decide whether or not I will be a candidate. I am greatly surprised at the number of communications coming in from various groups insisting that I enter the race."

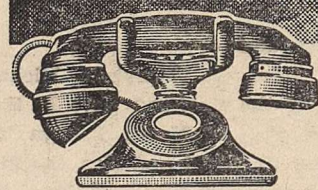

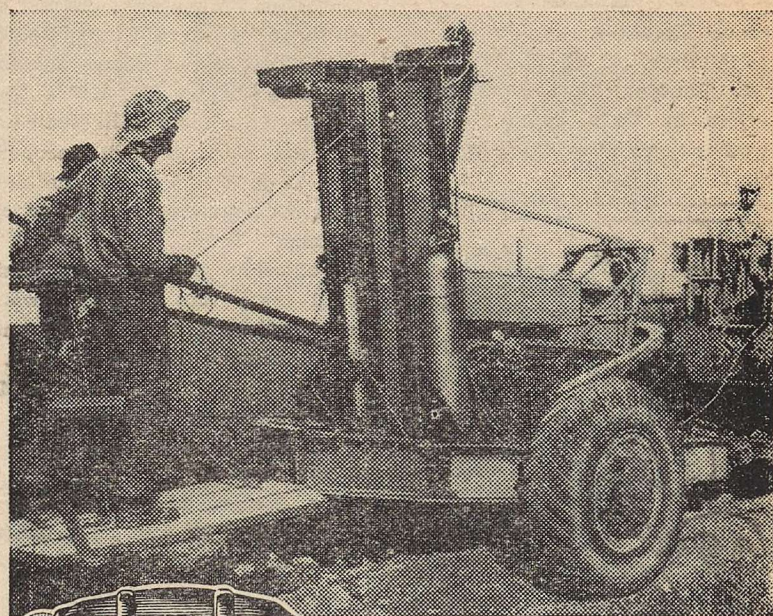

State Senator Robert Kenny of Los Angeles is making the political rounds too on the basis that a liberal such as himself has a better chance of knocking off Olson than a conservative like Garland. The speaker feels just the opposite, that Kenny and Olson would split up the liberal vote, leaving he conservatives of the party for Garland—and, he hopes, the nomination.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles showed up at the American Legion convention in Sacramento,—as did most of the other political aspirants, for that matter—but he was mum on the possibility of his being a Republican candidate. Nothing has been heard from Attorney General Earl Warren, either, considered by many as one of the strongest G.O.P. contenders if he chooses to campaign.

Another candidacy to be watched is that of Dr. Walter Dexter, superintendent of public instruction, who hankers to run for governor. Dexter was a secretary to former Governor Merriam, is prominent in service club affairs, and has a wide following of educators, admittedly a strong nucleus on which to base a campaign. He is a Republican.

The state railroad commission offers another interesting situation, with members Ray L. Riley and Justus Craemer both more than a little bit anxious to make the race for governor. Riley served as state controller for many years and was a perennial possibility for governor. Now that his term as railroad commissioner expires next year, and no chance of being reappointed by Olson, Riley might make one of several choices. He could seek the Republican nomination for governor or he might want back his old controller's job now held by Harry B. Riley.

Three transcontinental railroads have their western terminals on San Francisco Bay.

This giant plowshare is part of a unique cable train which, in one simultaneous operation, cuts a deep furrow and buries twin telephone cables in it. Under favorable conditions several miles of cable can be laid each day.

Making telephone history

Construction men—men who plan and build telephone lines—all are busy these days.

Prominent in our 1941 construction work is the largest toll cable program ever undertaken by our company.

The cables, designed and constructed to insure added dependability, will provide facilities not only to care for increasing service demands, but also to meet the requirements of National Defense.
